

KS1
Spring term 2

Manor Leas Infant School Knowledge Organiser
Religious Education
What do creation stories teach people about God and human nature?

| Star Words | Definition |
|------------|--|
| Allah | Muslim name for God. |
| Creation | The act or process of bringing something into existence. |
| Humanist | A person who does not believe in God. |
| Science | Finding out using evidence. |
| Big Bang | Humanist view of how the universe began with an explosion. |

- Home Learning Ideas
- Create a story with a good and evil character that encourages making a good choice.
 - Discuss your beliefs of creation with your family.

Helpful Websites

What is Humanism? - BBC Bitesize
<https://www.bbc.co.uk/bitesize/guides/zv2fgwx/revision/10>
<https://www.bbc.co.uk/bitesize/guides/zv2fgwx/revision/8>

Sticky Knowledge

Islamic creation story.
In this story, Allah created the world and the heavens, creatures, vegetation and man. There are similarities between the Islamic creation story and the Judeo-Christian one.

Humanism
Humanists believe that there is not a godlike figure to give purpose to the universe.

Instead, humanists view the origins of the universe as a result of natural processes, such as the Big Bang theory. The universe began as a hot and dense point and exploded, the universe has been expanding ever since.

Humanists believe that science provides the basis to discover the truth.

Good and Evil
Whether we look through a religious or humanistic lens we can recognise the difference between good and evil and the choices we make as people. Good means being kind, helpful and fair. Evil represents being very unkind and using intentionally hurtful actions.

